

Photo with Founders

Overruling 'Plan A': A Lawyer's Courage to Rewrite Her Future

RCCA NUR FAIZATON FUZAH
BINTI PADZI & ADZWAN
FAREEZAN BIN ABDUOLLAH

Former Lawyer / Businessman

Rising Above the Odds

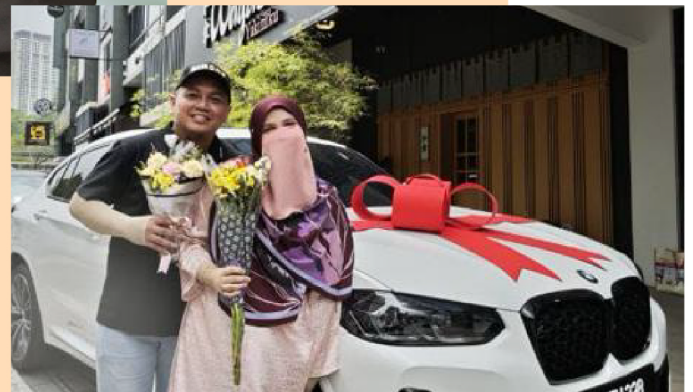

Growing up in a challenging environment and coming from a broken family, Faizaton Fuzah, affectionately known as Mizhana, learned early on that she had to fight for her future. Determined to change her circumstances, she studied relentlessly to achieve her dream of becoming a lawyer.

Her hard work paid off, taking her from the world of corporate law to a role as an in-house counsel, and eventually to a prestigious law firm. Yet, despite the professional status she had built with such immense effort, she felt a quiet urge to seek a different path.

Desperation Led to a New Discovery

Mizhana's career transition began with her own personal battle against severe eczema. Together with her husband, Fareez, she dedicated herself to researching natural treatment methods, including the use of Spirulina and carefully controlled wellness products. Their efforts paid off when she made a full recovery.

Her healing journey, which took place long before she joined BE, became the driving force behind her passion for alternative health. Today, she is a Certified Naturopathic Practitioner and Coach who actively helps eczema sufferers break free from the burden of the condition.

Car Fund

Her transition into an Eczema Health Coach was further strengthened by personal circumstances. When their business was affected during the COVID-19 pandemic, she and Fareez decided to join BE International in search of a more stable platform that could also create a wider positive impact on society.

However, while pursuing the CCA title, they faced another major challenge when their newborn baby developed chronic eczema. Fortunately, their child's health was fully restored through natural methods and alternative wellness solutions, including BE products, without the need for hospital-based treatment.

Overcoming the Stigma Together

When Mizhana first discovered the business platform she is involved in today, she was skeptical. As a respected lawyer, she struggled with the stigma often associated with multi-level marketing (MLM).

"At first, it was quite difficult for me to promote the products because I was concerned about maintaining my professional image," she admitted

However, with a positive shift in mindset and the unwavering support of Fareez, who stood firmly by her side throughout the journey, everything began to change. She stopped viewing the business as "just another MLM" and started seeing it as a powerful platform capable of transforming lives.

Confident in the company's vision, strong system, and harmonious working environment, Mizhana made the bold decision to commit to the business full-time.

BE Leadership Meeting with Network

Travel to MILAN BEST with our Mentor

Building Character, Not Just Sales

Despite her extensive corporate background, Mizhana strongly believes in BE's system of developing individuals from all walks of life. Today, she leads a diverse network ranging from homemakers and professionals to members of Gen Z, while consistently prioritizing character development above all else.

"You need to learn before you earn," she emphasizes to her team.

She places great importance on mentorship, continuous learning, and strict compliance with company guidelines, viewing them as essential building blocks for long-term and sustainable success.

Bring family to BELT trip

Stop Overthinking, Start Taking Action

When asked about the secret behind her rapid success, Mizhana highlights one key factor: attitude.

"I believe that having the right attitude is far more important than simply possessing knowledge," she shares.

Fareez echoes the same belief: "When you have the right attitude, the people around you will naturally be more open and willing to teach and guide you."

For those who aspire to change their lives, Mizhana's advice is simple yet powerful: stop overthinking and start taking extraordinary action. For Mizhana and Fareez, consistent action combined with the right system is the ultimate formula for achieving genuine and lasting success.